There has been great growth in all departments of the order, a dividend of 20 per cent. had been declared upon the bank stock for the year, and that notwithstanding the great opposition of the year, there had been more than 7,000 additions to the order, and that departments which paid only $182 at the death of members last year, were now able to pay $000. He extended an earnest welcome to the delegates.

Lawyer A. J. Oliver, a delegate from Roanoke, Va., responded. He reviewed the past battles of the organization for existence and alluded to the fact tha, but fifteen years ago the founder and president of the order was unknown and existence and alluded to the fact that but fifteen years ago the founder and president of the order was unknown and but a beggar spurned by all. He stated that it was the unantmons vote of the colored people of the South, that Wm. W. Browne be recognized as the successor of Fredrick Bouclass, as he (Browne) had taught the colored people the value of undred effort and that material prosperity is more to be desired that chapty honors of politics or the discussion of questions which bring about distrust on the part of these with whom they live and breed trouble among the races. He said further, that Browne is the only negro, who has been able to under thirty thousand negroes and govern them.

S. W. Rutherford, of Lynchburg, Va., followed Lawyer Oliver in an address, which was both entertaining and instructive. He showed the effects of the recent newspaper fight on the True Reformers of Lynchburg, saying that a preacher of that place had been arcund to the extent that he had caused resolutions to be passed in his church, forbidding his members to attend certain services at the True Reformers Hall even though said members might be True Reformers. He stated further that occause he and five others had refused to denounce the True Reformers at the command of their passor, they had been excommunicated from their church. In this same church there are other members who violate all the rules of the Baptist church and even run bar-rooms, but are not molested while persons who are members of an organization with the record for honesty and the upbuilding of the negro that the Grand Fauntain has are excommunicated because they refuse to denounce the order. His address was a stinging rebuke to that from of Christianity which seems to say, "If you do not go to Heaven through my church, you must go to the hell."

At the conclusion of the address of S. W. Rutherford, W. W. Browne made one of his characterities.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—The New Yorks played another fast game to-day, and defeated the Chicagos. Meekin pitched in masterly style, and with men on bases was a perfect enigma. His support was of a sensational nature. Hutchison, with the exception of the seventh inning, pitched well. In that inning, bowever, the New Yorks bunched three singles, a double and a triple, which, with a fumble by Hutchison, resulted in five runs, four of which were earned. That settled the game then and there, for the visitors could do nothing with Meekin after that. German, a pitcher, was placed on third, and handled himself well.

LOUISVILLE, 17. 5; WASHINGTON, 9, 2. WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 2.—The home team dropped two games to the Louisvilles to-day. The visitors lambasted Anderson's curves in great shape in the first game and the second was tons. George Meaken, the Louisville's new pitcher, did excellent work in the first inning of the second game, Meakin, Hassamer and Collins made brilliant triple play. A wonderful catch, by Brown, was the only other play worthy of note. Attendance 1,400.

NORFOLK, VA., Sept. 3.—Special.—
Norfolk won another game from Roanoke to-day, making it three straights. It was another one of those hard-fought battles which Norfolk and Roanoke generally make when they meet. Weeks pitched for the home team, and allowed the visitors only four hits off his delivery, and striking out seven men. "Foxy" Fry also twirled a good game and held the Norfolks down to six hits, four of these, however, being singles, coming just in time of need. There is no doubt about the Norfolks having taken a big brace and they will make some of the other teams move before the season ends.

Henry Well was elected president. The report that the Dumocrats and Populists were trying to harmonize attracts much attention. The Populists say the Democrats must first change their name; then they will droy theirs. They say certain Democrats are writing letters proposing a junction of forces. Efforts will be made to assertain the exact views of Senator Marion Butler in regard to this co-operation with Democrats. He is reported to favor it. He wants to lead all the silver forces, and thinks he is just the unin to head such a movement. the Reds by Nine Runs.
